

Bowl for Kids' Sake Fundraising Idea

CASUAL DRESS 4 BBBS

Do you or your teammates work in a place of business with a dress code? Is there some wiggle-room in those rules? If so, this might be a great way to raise funds for your team!

The idea is to sell employees the right to wear more casual clothing. For a fee, they wear a sticker or badge that says something like "I'm dressing down to support BBBSNC - Bowl for Kids' Sake" The badge also works as a great way to tell the public that donations are being collected.

Of course, you can always adapt any part of this idea to fit in with your workplace. "Clothing Optional" badges might be kind of risky, but if you can get away with it, more power to you!

Big Brothers Big Sisters of the North Coast